

Local Land Use Planning and Zoning

---

Updating Your Comprehensive Plan

Wednesday, January 14, 2015
10:30 am to 12:00 noon

Wisconsin's comprehensive planning law requires that communities update their comprehensive plan at least once every ten years. This program will explore the variety of issues that arise as communities update, or think about updating, their comprehensive plans.

Rebecca Roberts, Land Use Specialist, Center for Land Use Education, University of Wisconsin-Stevens Point/Extension; Brian Ohm, Land Use Law Specialist, Dept. of Urban and Regional Planning, University of Wisconsin-Madison/Extension.

Shoreland Zoning Update

Wednesday, February 11, 2015
10:30 am to 12:00 noon

The State recently adopted a new version of the shoreland zoning rule NR 115. Counties have two years from October 1, 2014, to amend their shoreland zoning ordinances consistent with the new rule. This program will review recent research related to protecting lakes through shoreland zoning and will review the recent rule changes.

Lynn Markham, Shoreland and Land Use Specialist, Center for Land Use Education, University of Wisconsin-Stevens Point/Extension, and Kay Lutze, Shoreland Zoning Policy Coordinator, Wisconsin Dept. of Natural Resources

Case Studies in Local Non-Metallic Mining Regulation

Wednesday, March 11, 2015
10:30 am to 12:00 noon

Frac sand mines have had multiple land use related impacts on local communities. Learn about these impacts from the experiences of our panel of presenters and how communities have responded.

Paul Kent, J.D., Attorney, Stafford Rosenbaum LLP; and William White, J.D., Attorney, Michael, Best and Friedrich, LLP

Case Law and Legislative Update

Wednesday, April 8, 2015
10:30 am to 12:00 noon

This program reviews the latest Wisconsin court decisions and legislation related to land use planning and implementation.

Brian Ohm, Land Use Law Specialist, Dept. of Urban and Regional Planning, University of Wisconsin -Madison/Extension.

Site Planning Fundamentals

Wednesday, May 13, 2015
10:30 am to 12:00 noon

Good design is important to creating communities that are visually appealing and function well. This program will provide an overview of the fundamentals of good site design. Through the review of site plans, local governments can insure that new development occurs in a way that is appropriate for the site and that other issues are addressed such as the management of stormwater, the enhancement of open space, transportation connections and the circulation of pedestrians.

James A. LaGro, Jr., M.L.A., Ph.D., Professor, Dept. of Urban and Regional Planning, University of Wisconsin-Madison

What is a WisLine?

A WisLine is a live teleconference offered by the University of Wisconsin-Extension that you attend from your home or office telephone. Presenters who have expert knowledge on the topic will offer an informal talk and an opportunity for questions and answers. Because there is no visual presentation in these teleconferences, it's recommended that you follow along with the supporting materials you will receive.

If you cannot attend the live session, you have the option to purchase the program in one of two formats:

- Materials Bundle: a CD recording of the program and a paper copy of the printed materials
- Audiostream: streaming audio and PDF of the materials. Includes a digital recording of the broadcast and a digital copy of the reference materials to be sent 2-3 weeks following the program

With the materials bundle and the audiostream, you will be able to hear the question-and-answer session that occurred in the live teleconference, but will not have a chance to ask your own questions.

For questions regarding the programs, please contact the Local Government Center at 608-262-9960.
